

The image shows a floor plan of two adjacent hotel suites, Suite P and Suite Q, which share a central bathroom. Suite P is on the left and Suite Q is on the right. The bathroom is located at the top center and contains two toilets, two sinks, and two showers. Each suite has a door on the left side and a door on the bottom side. The floor is a dark green color, and the walls are a light gray color. There are light blue rectangular areas on the walls, possibly representing windows or doors.
